TO NOBLEMEN, HUNTING MEN, CAPITALISTS, AND OTHERS. ROCKFOREST, MALLOW, CO. CORK

(The Seat of Sir James Laurence Cotter, Bart.)

DECIDEDLY SAFE AND TEMPTING INVESTMENT of the Fee-Simple Demesne, containing 154 acres, with magnificent, stately Residence, flower, fruit, and vegetable gardens, substantial and extensive out-offices, standing on a high-lying rock, picturesquely overlooking the famous River Blackwater, with fishing rights thereon, situate on a richly wooded estate, commanding delightful and varied views with charming aspect, and justly enjoying the reputation as the most delightful and beautiful residential property on the fertile banks of the Irish Rhine.

The Demesne contains 154 acres of naturally kind, deep, rich limestone land of the very best quality, beautifully timbered.

The Residence and Out-offices, with 118 acres, are held in fee-simple, subject only to a tithe rent-charge of £5 1s. 6d. The remainder (36 acres) is held under Land Purchase Act, and subject to the extremely low annuity of £22 10s. 0d. The Poor Law Valuation of the entire is £176.

D. B. SULLIVAN is favoured with instructions from the Owners TO SELL BY PUBLIC AUCTION, on FRIDAY, the 18th day of AUGUST, 1916, at the hour of 1 o'clock p.m., at the Residence, the valuable Interest in the above magnificent Residential Property.

This stately Mansion, which is in perfect structural and decorative repair, occupies a commanding situation on an eminence nicely timbered, and affords delightful scenery of the River Blackwater. The woodwork, which is over 500 years old, was carved by Italian workmen, is very fine, and there are some very valuable old marble mantelpieces in the house. Acetylene gas is installed. The sanitary arrangements are modern and perfect, and the water supply is excellent. The Mansion contains large entrance hall, with a gallery, three spacious reception rooms, smoking rooms, seven bedrooms, four dressing rooms, four w.c.'s, and excellent domestic offices. The quaint gardens are tastefully laid out, and the lawns extend to the river bank. The approach from the entrance lodge is through a nicely wooded carriage drive.

The Out-buildings comprise good gate lodge, gardener's cottage, stabling for 8 horses, coach-house, garage, cow-houses, etc., with walled-in gardens and pleasure grounds containing about 7 acres.

The Lands are all in pasture, with the exception of about 20 acres under corn, hay, and green crops. There is half a mile of excellent salmon fishing attached, and a lot of valuable timber.

This highly valuable property is desirably situate in the heart of the famous Duhallow Hunting Country, and easily accessible to several other packs, within three miles of the town of Mallow, one hour rail of Cork, four hours of Dublin, and twelve hours of London, via Rosslare. Mallow is an important railway junction, with the best train service in Ireland.

Apart from its residential, sporting, and social advantages, it affords the exceptional advantages that most necessarily appeal to those desirous of combining the pursuit of farming under most favourable conditions with first-class hunting, good fishing, shooting, etc. It would be impossible within the ordinary limits of an advertisement to do justice to the many advantages Rockforest enjoys. The Auctioneer earnestly requests an inspection of same. It must be seen to be appreciated.

For further particulars and Conditions of Sale apply to Messrs. PHILIP W. BASS and CO., Solicitors, 9 South Mall, Cork; or to

D. B. SULLIVAN, Auctioneer and Valuer, MALLOW.

KILDARE HUNT ANNUAL SHOW.

Committee:—Percy La Touche, D.L., Chairman; L. F. Bait, J.P.; Captain Blacker, J.P.; Col. Hon. C. Crichton, D.L.; J. W. Dane, D.L.; Baron De Robeck, D.L.; W. J. Fennell, J.P.; Col. R. St. Leger Moore, C.B.; Major Talbot-Ponsonby, M.F.H.; E. I. Gray, Hon. Secretary.

On Saturday the twenty-eighth annual show of brood mares, thoroughbred yearlings, and two and three-year-old horses, colts and fillies, promoted by the County Kildare Hunt, was held at Oldtown, Naas (by kind permission of Colonel De Burgh, D.L.). The entries fell somewhat short of the number in previous shows, which is not a matter for surprise in present circumstances; but the quality all round was superb, as anyone who knows what horse-breeding in the Co. Kildare is like, will readily believe. The thoroughbred yearlings were an exceptionally good lot. The weather was fine and warm, and the shade afforded by the spreading trees in the park was most welcome to all, man and horse alike. The attendance of the public was good, but in that also a slight falling-off was observed. This was to some extent accounted for by the fact that the farmers of the surrounding country were too busy with their own work to lose even half a day at the show. The jumping competition supplied the chief attraction of the day. The following is the prize list:—

NEWCASTLE, July 29.—Wheat 3/- per quarter advance on foreign; English 1/- to 2/-. Maize 6d. up. Oats 1/-, and flour 2/- per sack higher. No. 1 Northern Manitoba wheat, 65/- to 66/-; No. 2, 64/- to 65/-; No. 3, 63/- to 64/-; English, 58/- to 60/-; maize, 57/-; oats, 34/6 to 36/6; beans, 59/-; flour, 44/6 to 48/6.

CARLISLE, July 29.—Very small supply, but keen inquiry, and a quick trade at rates showing a slight advance on last week, viz., 12/9 to 13/- per three imperial bushels.

CATTLE.

DONCASTER, July 29.—A small supply of cattle, but plenty for requirements, the higher prices checking trade. Milch cows made £30 to £42; bullocks, £22 to £29; heifers, £22 to £27; stirks, £12 to £16; sucking calves, £3 per head. Not many sheep, and not much doing—Shearlings, 65/- to 75/- each. A poor show of pigs; prices firm—Young pigs, 23/- to 33/-; strong stores, 60/- each.

NORWICH, Saturday.—Rather larger supply of fat cattle, but quality hardly so good as last week, nearly all the beasts being grassfeds. Demand not so keen, prices being easier by 15/- to 20/- per head. Prime quality cattle made 15/- and in a few cases 15/6, secondary sorts and cows 12/- to 14/- per stone. Fair supply of fat sheep, but quality below the average; trade slower at ½d. per lb. less money. Pigs also in less demand, both bacons and porkers making 12/9 to 13/- per stone. Small supply of store cattle, all of which were Irish, but there was not sufficient demand to justify quotations. Not so many store sheep on offer, the supply consisting chiefly of lambs. Trade for these was rather dull, but prices were not easier, ranging from 45/- to 58/- per head. The few store ewes on offer sold very dear.

PROVISIONS.

LIVERPOOL, Saturday.—BACON—Advices from Chicago were again of a favourable character, and although the arrivals of bacon here were more liberal than of late, the firmness in the market for all descriptions of American continued unabated, the strength in long sides having a favourable influence. The demand, however, on the whole was of a moderate character, and no further advance was established. Irish and Danish was in small compass, and holders raised prices 1/- to 2/- per cwt., while Canadian showed an additional improvement of 1/- in sympathy. SHOULDERS remained firm, but no quotable change was made in values of any description. HAMS still firm and fairly active at recent full prices, the brilliant weather here causing buyers to operate with less reserve. LARD on the spot showed no further quotable change for prime steam, but American refined generally was held for 3d. per cwt. advance, but the demand was still confined to the supply of actual needs. REFINED LARD FUTURES—The improvement in America had already been fully discounted here, and early trading showed 4½d. per cwt. decline. Good buying, however, brought about a recovery, and the market finished steady unchanged to 1½d. per cwt. lower than last night. Sales covered July at 72/3, September 72/7½, October 72/10½ to 73/1½, and November 73/4½ per cwt. CHEESE was quiet but steady at the recent decline for both finest States and Canadian. BUTTER firm and finest makes held for 1/- to 2/- per cwt. more money. EGGS still dull and prices again tended in favour of buyers.

WOOL.

LEICESTER, Saturday.—There is still some business passing in English clipped and pulled wools held prior to Government purchase scheme. Prices are well maintained, though buyers seem to have covered their immediate requirements. There is rather more freedom on the part of spinners to book orders, but it is impossible to get anything like deliveries. In some sections of the hosiery trade there is a certain amount of quietness, while activity prevails in others.

GLASGOW SALES.—Messrs. F. H. M'Leod and Sons, of Bishop Gardens Wool Stores, report as follows:—The Government scheme for the working of the wool trade is not yet fully completed, and until it is announced and in working order the wool trade is practically at a standstill. A few lots of the 1915 clip are still available, but manufacturers are much in the same position as merchants, and are awaiting developments. To allow business to resume its normal course it is to be hoped that a satisfactory scheme will be shortly intimated.

THE WOOL CLIP.

At the Athlone wool markets on Saturday the Government official prices for this season's clip were announced for the district between Dublin and Galway as 1/5¾ per lb. Further West they are 1d. less, and in the Eastern counties 1/3. The entire supply must be delivered before the end of September. Woollen manufacturers are not permitted to buy, but will be supplied from the Government depot in Dublin.

DUBLIN AND DISTRICT.

Passenger Traffic at the North Wall.—On Saturday the ss. Rathmore completely eclipsed the passenger-carrying record of her sister express steamer Greenore by conveying from Holyhead to the North Wall 1,039 travellers. There appears to be an extraordinary rush of all classes of passenger traffic to Dublin lately, and it should be borne in mind that there are no sea excursions, and that fares have been increased. The attractions of Ireland must be magnetic, indeed, when such numbers of people are undertaking the journey from Great Britain at present. Of those who arrived from Holyhead on Saturday, 939 were deck passengers, the remaining hundred crossing in the saloon. Local cars and cabs benefited by the invasion.

Cutter Yacht as Collier.—There arrived in Dublin on Saturday a neat-looking cutter yacht, which had been acquired by a gentleman intimately associated with the coal importing business of the city. The yacht was in need of ballast on the cross-Channel run to the Liffey, and very appropriately some twenty tons of coal were stowed away below her decks for this purpose. Business and pleasure were never more neatly allied than in this case.

"I am now quite well."

Our portrait is of Mrs. Hewitt, of 117 Tibbey ... Dewsbury ... who writes:—"My leg was covered with large ... several sores ... ferent times, and they gave me medicine and ointments, but still I seemed to get worse. One day a neighbour asked me to try Clarke's Blood Mixture, and after taking several bottles I am completely cured. At one time my leg was so bad that the doctors thought I should have to have it amputated, but thanks to Clarke's Blood Mixture I am now quite well."

CURED BY

If you suffer from any such disease as Eczema, Scrofula, Bad Legs, Abscesses, Ulcers, Glandular Swellings, Boils, Pimples, Sores of any kind, Piles, Blood Poison, Rheumatism, Gout, &c. don't waste your time and money on useless lotions and messy ointments which cannot get below the surface of the skin. What you want and what you must have to be permanently cured is a medicine that will thoroughly free the blood of the poisonous matter, which alone is the true cause of all your sufferings. Clarke's Blood Mixture is just such a medicine. It is composed of ingredients which quickly expel from the blood all impurities from whatever cause arising, and by rendering it clean and pure can be relied on to effect a complete and lasting cure.

Over fifty years' success. Pleasant to the taste.

"I am now quite well."

Our portrait is of Mrs. Hewitt, of 117 Tilbury Dwellings, Tilbury, who writes:—"My leg was covered with large ulcerated sores. I consulted four doctors at different times, and they gave me medicine and ointments, but still I seemed to get worse. One day a neighbour asked me to try Clarke's Blood Mixture, and after taking several bottles I am completely cured. At one time my leg was so bad that the doctors thought I should have to have it amputated, but thanks to Clarke's Blood Mixture I am now quite well."

CURED BY

If you suffer from any such disease as Eczema, Scrofula, Bad Legs, Abscesses, Ulcers, Glandular Swellings, Boils, Pimples, Sores of any kind, Piles, Blood Poison, Rheumatism, Gout, &c., don't waste your time and money on useless lotions and messy ointments which cannot get below the surface of the skin. What you want and what you must have to be permanently cured is a medicine that will thoroughly free the blood of the poisonous matter, which alone is the true cause of all your sufferings. Clarke's Blood Mixture is just such a medicine. It is composed of ingredients which quickly expel from the blood all impurities from whatever cause arising, and by rendering it clean and pure can be relied on to effect a complete and lasting cure.

Over fifty years' success. Pleasant to the taste.

Clarke's Blood Mixture

THE WOUNDED AT PLAY.

CLUB GARDEN PARTY.

The members of the Kenilworth Bowling Club and of the Leinster Lawn Tennis Club, Grosvenor square, Rathmines, were the hosts and hostesses of close on fifty wounded soldiers on Friday afternoon at Viscount Iveagh's Gardens, Earlsfort terrace, which have been suitably equipped as a summer club for wounded soldiers by the generosity of the members of the Irish Automobile Club. The weather was of an ideal description for a garden party, and every possible effort was made to provide a thoroughly enjoyable afternoon for some of the gallant men who have suffered for their country. Mr. H. A. O'Brennan, president, and Mr. F. E. Jones, hon. secretary of the Bowling Club, and Mr. M. J. Whelan, hon. secretary of the Tennis Club, together with many members of both clubs, were present, and took a lively interest in promoting the happiness of their guests. Numerous games were engaged in, including bowling, croquet, lawn bagatelle, clock golf, and deck quoits, for which prizes were given. At intervals during the afternoon tea and fruit, and a plentiful supply of cigarettes were served, and at the conclusion of the programme Mr. O'Brennan expressed the pleasure it had given the members of the two clubs to have the men as their guests. The prizes were then distributed by Mrs. O'Brennan, and cheers having been given for the fighting men at the front the proceedings came to a conclusion with the singing of the National Anthem. As the soldiers were leaving in motor cars for their respective hospitals, they were each presented with a bunch of flowers.

ANGLING.

WATERVILLE.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

The weather has been very sultry and bright, with light variable breezes, with the result that there is very little to report. Anglers out after sea trout had some fine sport in the late evenings at the south side of the lough, one angler getting five sea trout in one evening. Brown trout furnished some good sport occasionally towards sundown. Rock fishers plying the worm scored well on a couple of days at the "Black Point," "Red Rock," the "Cummanes Ledges," and Garrivilane. One angler got nine fish, weighing in the aggregate 12lbs., heaviest fish 2¼lbs. No anglers have been seen out on the upper lakes since last report. On the mountain loughs that hold brown trout only, sport has been better than was expected in such tropical weather, but it has been obtainable in the evenings only. The best basket had during the week was one of three dozen on Cummeravanig. All the rivers are extremely low at present, and angling is entirely out of the question, except on the tidal sections of the Waterville and Inny rivers. Bass have furnished fine sport. In the late evenings bottom-fishing has been productive of much sport in the bay, large numbers of gurnet, bream, and scad having been had. At Reeneraugh Point, Carrigeena Rock, Reenreen, and Carrigasheen Rocks shore or rock fishers have done well with wrasse.

CLONTARF GYMKHANA.

Encouraged by the success which attended their previous gymkhana, as the result of which £65 was raised for the Red Cross Society and St. John Ambulance Corps funds, the members of the Clontarf Club organised another for the same laudable object on Saturday. The Executive Committee was composed of Rev. J. L. Morrow, Alderman James Moran, J.P.; George Booker, J.P.; T. Picton Bradshaw, Augustus A. Klingner, H. T. Fradley, J. J. Moore, Hon. Sec., and Jos. Chance, Hon. Treasurer, and mainly to the indefatigable efforts of these gentlemen is due the gratifying success which the gymkhana proved to be. The weather was delightfully summerlike, and the prettily laid out and well-kept course, just now looking at its best, was thronged all day by large numbers interested in the numerous competitions. Of outstanding interest amongst these was the match between Miss G. Lauder (Sutton and Hermitage) and James Martin, the Milltown professional, who consented to deputise for Miss Janet Jackson (Malahide) and Miss Harrison (Island), neither of whom was able to be present owing to having to attend to other war work.

The match between Miss Lauder and Martin was followed by a large "gallery," its novel character having aroused much interest. The professional conceded nine strokes on the round, but he experienced little difficulty in doing so, winning the match by 2 and 1. His driving was not as long, generally, as usual, and he badly hooked several tee shots, pulling two balls out of bounds from the fourth tee, but his golf otherwise was sound. Miss Lauder, who, as a rule, is very reliable with her irons and in her putting, did not hit her shots through the green as crisply as usual, and she was, in addition, somewhat off her putting, but her driving was long and straight. Indeed, her tee shots were the feature of her golf. She made a good fight of it, and at more than one hole did not require her handicap allowance; but, as was to be expected, she was no match for the professional. On the outward journey she was stymied at the first and sixth, Martin's ball on each occasion lying on the lip of the hole, and in an attempt to win the first hole she knocked her opponent's ball in. Martin was two up at the end of the first round, the figures reading:—Martin, 445546545—42; Miss Lauder (gross), 546665744—47. Going to the 13th Miss Lauder was three down, but, improving in her play, she took three holes running. A too strong approach from under the trees on the right of the 16th left her in the rough over the green, and her fourth rolled down the sloping green. Martin had the hole in 4 to 7, and winning the 17th in 3 and 4 he won the match as stated. The figures were:—Martin, 544545455—39; Miss Lauder (gross), 646534746—45 (Martin, 81; Miss Lauder (gross), 92. The following were the results of the afternoon competitions:—

Mixed Foursomes (9 holes)—Master Collins and Miss Grandy, 35 (winner); James Fielding and Mrs. Dawson, 37 (2nd).

Long Driving (Men)—Class I.—J. Aston. Class II.—E. B. Black.

Long Driving (Ladies)—Miss Rowan.

Approaching and Putting.—The winners were:—Mr. James Henderson, Rev. M. Ronan, Mr. Prescott, Master Collins.

Putting.—The winners were:—Miss Scott, Mr. R. W. Lewis, Mr. Lyon, Mr. Hume, Mr. Barry, Mr. M'Ferran, Mr. Forsythe, Miss Clotherby.

BILLIARDS.

REECE v. HARRIS.—At Thurston's, Leicester square, London, on Saturday afternoon, Harris, receiving 1,700 in 10,000 up, opened well with 226 (full), 63, and 91, but then fell away completely. Reece started badly, but with a fine 388, followed by 78, made 502 for an average of 50. Interval scores:—against 365, and average of 33. Interval scores:—Harris, 5,367; Reece (to play), 4,344. At snooker pool there was a good deal of finessing, and progress ruled slow, Harris being below his best form. Reece won two of three games, the scores being 74 to 44, 48 to 59, and 73 to 39. The feature of the evening session was a sterling all round break of 494 by Reece on his fifth visit to the table. It included 58 nursery cannons, and was closed by missing an awkward white loser. This was his only break of note, his aggregate being 554 for an average of 42, against Harris's 269, and average of 22. The latter's best were 104 and 41 (unfinished). Closing scores:—Harris (in play), 5,636; Reece, 4,898. At snooker Reece won 62 to 49, Harris 63 to 37 and 62 to 51. Present score:—Harris, 18 games; Reece, 17; 1 tie.

The Executive of the Berwick Division Liberal Association met at Berwick on Saturday, and unanimously adopted Sir Francis Blake chairman of the Divisional Liberal Association, as candidate for the vacancy caused by the elevation of Sir Edward Grey to the peerage. Sir Francis was present, and agreed to stand.

ATHLETICS AND CYCLING.

IRISH GUARDS' SUCCESSES AT STAMFORD BRIDGE.

At the athletic meeting promoted by the City of London Y.R. at Stamford Bridge on Saturday, close finishes were the rule, and many good men were seen out. Sergeant O'Kelly (Irish Guards) won the 100 yards handicap, and the Irish Guards were also successful in the tug-of-war and the half-mile open handicap, which was won by Corporal Topping, while they dead-heated with the A.S.C. in the inter-regimental team race, over one and a half miles. Private Hodge (A.S.C.) was first home. W. F. Poddington (attested) secured both the quarter and half-mile cycling handicaps, in which events the first four competitors were the same in each instance, a very unusual occurrence, and they finished almost in a line in both finals. The 75th Canadians won the mile relay from the A.S.C., and J. Chivers (attested) took the 220 invitation handicap. Corporal M'Lellan (Scots Guards) won the two miles walking handicap in great style.

WINDSOR MEETING—SATURDAY.

ST. GEORGE'S HANDICAP.

POPULAR SUCCESS OF PHALARIS.

There was a big attendance for the concluding day at Windsor on Saturday, and throughout the racing was always interesting. The Datchet Handicap proved a capital betting race, and but for the intervention of Brownii, the best-backed horses would have filled the leading positions past the judge. Capital stayed on slightly better than Sanctum, and registered his third consecutive winning bracket quite cleverly, thus confirming the excellent judgment shown by Sir William Nelson in acquiring the horse for 400 sovs. after his success at Newmarket at the Second Extra Meeting. With an easy impost reduced by the apprentice allowance for the services of Victor Smyth, Carol Singer's winning chance for the Rays Handicap was obvious to most backers, and, starting best in demand, he scored an easy victory, and enabled his jockey to register his fortieth winning mount under Jockey Club Rules, which closes his right to the apprentice allowance.

The St. George's Handicap attracted one of the best fields of sprinters seen in opposition this season. Argos was always a pronounced favourite, but the penalised Phalaris, securing a winning advantage at flagfall, had the foot of his opponents throughout a very fast run race, and eventually won literally "running away." Needless to add, the success of Lord Derby's colours was exceedingly popular with all classes. Treddle, in the succeeding event, easily recovered backers of Torloisk their losses, and it cost 410 gns. to buy her in. Diadem met with weak opposition for the Eton Plate, which the handsome sister to Diadumenos won without being extended. Details:—

CRICKET.

MILITARY OF IRELAND v. MR. R. H. LAMBERT'S XI.

Victory of the Military.

No pleasanter resort could be conceived than was the College Park on Saturday afternoon, when the match between the Military of Ireland and Mr. R. H. Lambert's Irish XI., for the benefit of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Club, 18 North Wall, Dublin, was brought to a conclusion. The belated spell of perfect summer weather which has prevailed for a week or two past continued in all its brilliance, and many persons visited the park, taking advantage of so pleasant an entertainment in such delightful surroundings. The function was enjoyable in every way, and afforded an appropriate summer recreation not out of place at the present time. There was another very large and fashionable attendance, and the promoters are to be congratulated on the splendid success achieved.

It was taken for granted that the cricket would be, all round, of a better class than on Friday, a conclusion that was verified, for though the majority of the players were feeling the effects of their exertions of the previous afternoon, which was inevitable after their prolonged absence from the cricket field, they, on Saturday, appeared to have got their eye in, as it were. The result was that the cricket was ever so much brighter and the game ever so much more interesting for the spectator. The position overnight pointed, also, to a close finish, and in that respect, too, expectations were fully realised. At one stage of the Military team's second innings, however, such an ending to the match did not seem at all likely, for with but fifty-five minutes remaining for play the soldiers with only five batsmen to go in still required 95 runs to win, five good wickets having fallen in fifty minutes for an aggregate of 46 runs. It was at that critical period in the fortunes of the team Lieut. Hinton, the Irish Rugby international player, joined Captain Weigall, and was instrumental in stemming the rot which had set in. For twenty-five minutes each batsman defied the attack, and when ultimately Hinton retired 43 runs had been added. Then Weigall and Astill put on 44 for the seventh wicket, on the fall of which eight runs were still required, with five minutes to go. It was a most exciting finish, but the runs were obtained, and a hard fought for victory won. The eminently satisfactory result was certainly due to the fine sportsmanlike spirit displayed by Mr. Lambert in declaring at the time he did. He took a risk in doing so, for when he made his declaration two hours—there was then an interval of fifteen minutes—remained for the opposing side to score 141 runs to win; but, as it happened, had he delayed his decision five minutes longer the game would have fizzled out in a draw, and the spectators, most of whom stayed on to the end, would not have witnessed a thrilling finish.

The wicket was again in splendid order when Quinlan and Nicholls opened Mr. Lambert's XI.'s second innings, Browne and Astill sharing the bowling. It should be mentioned that, in our report on Saturday of the first day's play, Astill was credited with taking eight wickets for 29 runs and Browne two for 42, whereas it was Browne who secured the eight wickets. Twenty-six runs were put on by the first pair of batsmen, of which Nicholls, who played pretty cricket, claimed 21; but Bookman did not remain long with Quinlan, the partnership being dissolved for the addition of only one run. Some bright cricket was associated with the Quinlan-Power partnership, which yielded 65 runs, Power's contribution being 31—a stylish and very useful innings. With Ogden and Quinlan together the hundred was reached, the innings having then being in progress two hours. After the departure of Ogden Lambert was smartly held in slips before he had scored, and then Quinlan's patient innings was brought to an end by a remarkable one-hand catch by Hinton. Quinlan pulled a ball from Astill to square leg, taking it rather high, and a boundary seemed inevitable when Hinton effected the catch, which was one of the features of the match. Quinlan, who again took over the hour to reach double figures, and was batting altogether two hours and 25 minutes, played very steady cricket for his 49. Eventually, when the innings had lasted two hours and 40 minutes, the closure was applied with the score at 133 for eight wickets. Weigall and Astill shared the bowling honours, the first-named having three wickets for 18 runs, and Astill four for 42, while the fielding was very keen.

Requiring 141 to win, the Military made an inauspicious start, Caldbeck, Miller, Cox, and Shields being out with only 35 on the board. Weigall and Price, the former of whom was scoring at a steady rate, advanced the total to 46, the result of fifty minutes' play; and when Price left Hinton and Weigall set about the bowling in fine style, Weigall scoring rapidly all round the wicket, and in 25 minutes 43 runs were added, Hinton being then bowled off the fourth ball of Bookman's first over. Weigall and Astill put up the hundred, the innings having been in progress an hour and 25 minutes, and when at length Kempster got through Weigall's defence the latter had scored exactly half the total number of runs made off the bat. Going in second wicket down, he was in an hour and 35 minutes for his 66, which included 5 fours, and his batting constituted the outstanding feature of the match. Astill and Gorry forced the pace subsequently, and with five minutes to go eight runs were wanted. These were obtained, and with three wickets in hands the soldiers won on the stroke of time. The fielding of the civilians was remarkably good, only one extra being recorded. Lambert took three wickets for 23, and was the most successful of the six bowlers. Score:—

PROVINCIAL PARAGRAPHS.

Potato Blight in County Wexford.—The potato blight has made its appearance in several places in the South Wexford and South Kilkenny districts.

Good Prices for Growing Crops.—At an auction on Saturday at Ardstraw, near Newtownstewart, Co. Tyrone, the following top prices were paid:—Potatoes, £31 per acre; oats, £15 per acre.

First Holiday in 34 Years.—After a service of 34 years as compounder to the Listowel Dispensary, Mr. J. F. McGuire applied for the first time for four weeks' leave of absence. The leave was unanimously granted.

Cattle-Driving in County Galway.—For the second time during the past month a farm near Loughrea has been cleared of its stock, and the gates and walls thrown down. The cattle were found a considerable distance away.

Workhouse Amalgamation.—The Clogher Guardians decided on Saturday to close the body of the Workhouse and the casual wards on and after 19th August next, and to keep open only the hospital. The paupers will be transferred to the Enniskillen Union. The net saving is calculated at £251 a year.

The Sale of Loftus Hall.—Last week, in the Chancery Division, Dublin, Mr. Michael J. O'Connor, Wexford, was declared the purchaser, at £4,000, of the mansion house and lands known as Loftus Hall, in the County Wexford. Mr. O'Connor bought the place in trust for the Benedictine Nuns, who left France at the beginning of the war, and are now living at Clonard, in the County Wexford.

Strange Case of Suicide.—A shopkeeper named Richard Prendergast, of Hilltown, Ballymitty, Co. Wexford, committed suicide on Friday night by blowing out his brains. He put a shot gun to his mouth, but how he managed to pull the trigger remains a mystery. When his brother returned from their farm on entering the house he found the deceased with a lighted candle in his hand. The roof of the skull had been blown away, and the man had apparently been dead for some hours. An inquest was held by Mr. J. J. Roche, J.P., Deputy-Coroner for South Wexford, on Saturday, when the jury returned a verdict of suicide during temporary insanity.

Fatal Gun Accident.—An inquest was held at Glenlush, Co. Tyrone, on Saturday on a girl named Jennie Craig, who was killed on the previous evening through an accident with a shot gun, her sister Minnie at the same time receiving injuries, as the result of which her life is still in danger. Samuel Smyth, bank clerk in Aughnacloy, said that he was home on leave. Having arranged with the deceased girl and her sister to take their photographs, he carried his camera, and also a gun for the purpose of shooting rabbits. He loaded the gun and laid it on the ground while he proceeded to take the photographs. Shortly afterwards he heard a shot, and Jennie Craig fell dead, and Minnie shouted that she was also shot. A little boy of ten years had lifted the gun. Dr. Leitch said that the deceased child had an extensive wound on the back of the head. Death was instantaneous. The jury returned a verdict of accidental death.

DISABLED SAILORS AND SOLDIERS.

THE DUTIES OF LOCAL COMMITTEES.

The War Pensions, etc., Statutory Committee have issued a circular drawing the attention of local Committees to their duties with regard to making provision for the health, training, and employment of disabled officers and men after they have left the service. The local Committees are to keep a register of all the disabled sailors and soldiers in their area. Arrangements have been made with the War Office, and will be made with the Admiralty, with a view to facilitating the Committees and the men in this matter. Further, the Employment Department of the Board of Trade have agreed to instruct the Labour Exchanges to report each week to the appropriate local Committee particulars of all discharged men who have been placed in employment. It is desirable that the local Committees and the Labour Exchanges shall work in the closest possible co-operation. The Statutory Committee strongly deprecate the expenditure of money on unnecessary institutions or superfluous agencies, whether the money for them is derived from public funds or from charitable sources. The number of disabled sailors and soldiers discharged from the Navy and Army from the beginning of the war up to the 31st May, 1916, is given as follows:—

KING OF DENMARK'S NARROW ESCAPE.

AN HOUR IN THE WATER.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAMS.)
COPENHAGEN, SATURDAY.

As already briefly reported, King Christian, who is at present taking a holiday at his Jutland seat, Marselisborg Castle, near Aarhus, yesterday had a narrow escape from drowning. The King started at two o'clock in the afternoon, in a twelve-foot long canoe, with lateen sail, and sailed the little craft about Aarhus Bay with his usual skill. When passing a promontory called Oerneredeu a sudden gust capsized the canoe, which has air-tight compartments, and, therefore, cannot sink. His Majesty, nothing daunted, climbed up on the keel, and sat astride it. Unfortunately, the combined weight of the King and the sail made the boat heel over, so that His Majesty was immersed up to his neck. The accident occurred two thousands yards from the shore, in ten fathoms of water. Nobody noticed that anything had happened for over an hour, although a number of boats passed quite close to the spot. Finally, the attention of the people on land was called to the accident, the King's cap floating ashore. A chemist's assistant promptly threw off his clothes and swam out, followed by two young men in a canoe. They succeeded in saving the King, who by this time was in a dangerous state of exhaustion. People were now waiting on shore with blankets, and as soon as the King landed he was wrapped up in them. His Majesty then lay down on the beach for ten minutes, till the Royal launch had been fetched from the Castle to bring him home. On arriving at Marselisborg the King went to bed. Later in the evening he got up, feeling quite well, except for some pain in his legs, caused by strongly clinging on to the canoe for an hour. His Majesty first inquiry after his recovery was for his rescuers, who had disappeared.

SUNDAY.

Two school boys who were found to have played a prominent part in saving King Christian's life were received in audience yesterday at the Castle, and presented with Monogrammed cigarette cases.

AARHUS, SATURDAY EVENING.

The King conferred the Dannebrog Order upon Viggo Madsen, the chemist's assistant who saved His Majesty's life, at a special audience at Marselisborg this morning.

UNITED STATES AND IRISH PRISONERS.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)
WASHINGTON, SATURDAY.

The Senate to-day adopted, by forty-six votes to nineteen, a resolution requesting President Wilson to transmit to the British Government the expression of the Senate's hope that Great Britain would exercise clemency in the treatment of Irish political prisoners. The adoption of this resolution followed an unfavourable report by a majority of the Foreign Relations Committee on a resolution requesting clemency for Roger Casement.

NAVAL BOY HERO.

REMARKABLE PUBLIC TRIBUTE IN LONDON.

With all the dignity of a public funeral, the expense of which was borne by the Admiralty, the remains of John Travers Cornwell, the boy hero of the Chester, were re-interred on Saturday afternoon in a private grave at Manor Park Cemetery, London. Crowds of enormous proportions gathered along the route from East Ham Town Hall to the graveside, which was lined by military, police officers, and boy scouts. The coffin, covered with the Union Jack, was borne on a gun carriage, drawn by a team of naval men. Wreaths were sent by Admiral Beatty, the Lord Mayor and others.

Dr. Macnamara, Parliamentary Secretary to the Admiralty, speaking at the graveside, said he had come to pay a tribute of respect to the memory of a hero, and to lay on his grave in the name of the Royal Navy a wreath of tender loving thought. Referring to Captain Fryatt, of the Brussels, executed by Germans, he said the story of the circumstances of his death filled all their minds, and stirred them to the deepest horror and indignation. Their sentiments concerning this crime would, he was sure, be shared by the whole civilised world. The name of this gallant representative of the mercantile marine would ever be honoured amongst English-speaking people.

In an appeal for funds for a national memorial to Cornwell, signed by Lord Beresford and the President of the Navy League, it is announced that it has been decided, after conferences, that the memorial should consist of the endowment in perpetuity of a Jack Cornwell Ward, reserved for disabled sailors in the Star and Garter Home, Richmond. Every boy and girl attending school in the British Empire is to be asked to contribute one penny; the provision of Jack Cornwell Cottage Homes for disabled and invalided sailors and their families, this fund being raised by the East Ham Committee; Naval Scholarships for deserving boys, and a suitable monument on Jack Cornwell's grave in Manor Park Cemtary, to be erected by school children of East Ham.

LORD DERBY AND DURATION OF THE WAR.

Lord Derby, who presented prizes at Wellington College on Saturday, said it was going to take some time to crush German despotism. If they read in the newspapers of success one day they must not think te was near the end. He could not see the end in sight at present, and it might be that long before it finished some of those sitting there might be serving.

ENEMY SUBMARINE ACTIVITIES.

Lloyd's Marseilles agent telegraphed on Saturday:—Part of the crew of the British steamer Grangemoor, torpedoed in the Mediterranean, landed here from the Duc de Braganza.

Lloyd's Copenhagen agent telegraphed on Saturday:—British steamer George Allen, according to reports from Sweden, seized by German torpedo boat in Swedish territory, was, therefore, again released. Whereafter she went aground off Landscrona, leaking. Refloated with assistance of salvage steamer, and brought to Landscrona.

Lloyd's report that the Norwegian towing lighter Mary, 511 tons, from Fredrikstad to Hartlepool, with pitprops, in tow of the steamer Ceslesjell, was sunk by an enemy submarine at 9.30 p.m. on July 24th.

An enemy submarine has sunk the steamer Ville de Rouen in the Mediterranean. Three of the crew were drowned.

A Lloyd's Copenhagen telegram of Saturday's date says—The Danish steamer Normandiet, before reported seized by German torpedo boats, has been released, and is proceeding northwards in the Sound. The Danish steamer Vidan, which left Copenhagen on Tuesday for Hull, with a cargo of agricultural products, has been seized by German torpedo boats, and brought to Cuxhaven.

NAVAL AND MILITARY INTELLIGENCE.

(FROM OUR MILITARY CORRESPONDENT IN IRELAND.)

Recruiting has been opened for the duration of the war to skilled motor drivers and tradesmen up to 45 years of age at ordinary Army Service Corps rates of pay.

It has been decided that, in future, all men who produce a certificate that they are employed on indoor or clerical work under the Postmaster-General, and who have been passed by a medical board as only fit for home service, are to be relegated to the Army Reserve (Class W.), and permitted to remain in their civil employment.

It has been decided to modify the system of appointing and allotting for duty acting sergeant artillery clerks. Appointments to acting sergeants at home and overseas will be carried out in future under the authority of the Officer in Charge of Royal Garrison Artillery Records, Dover, and will be made from general rolls according to seniority of those recommended for promotion by their commanding officers, irrespective of the office in which they may be serving. The seniority rolls of clerks serving overseas will be kept by the Officer in Charge, Royal Artillery Sections, and the names of all clerks selected for promotion to fill vacancies will be submitted to the Officer in Charge of Royal Garrison Artillery Records for approval before the appointment is made. Under the new system the necessity for moving clerks from one office to another on promotion will be avoided.

The following individuals only will be eligible in future for admission to contingents of the Senior Division Officers' Training Corps in Great Britain:—Intra-mural cadets—Members of the University under the age of 18½ years. Extra-mural cadets—Any desirable candidate under 18½ years of age, who has recently served in a Junior Contingent of the Officers' Training Corps, and who is recommended by the commanding officer of the school contingent as suitable. The total number of extra-mural cadets must not, however, exceed 25 per cent. of the establishment of the unit. Medical students—Those students who are exempted from service, or who are physically unfit for general service.

The next class at the Irish Command School of Signalling will assemble on Monday, the 4th September.

TIPPERARY GUARDIANS AND PARTITION.

At the meeting of the Tipperary Board of Guardians, on Saturday, Mr. Denis Quinlan (Cullen) said that Ireland was in a deplorable condition at present. The Irish Party had left the country in a worse condition than ever. The British Cabinet had torn up their promises like scraps of paper. Mr. Redmond now saw what he had got from Mr. Asquith, while, as for Mr. T. P. O'Connor, he was the prime mover in the whole miserable business of the attempted partition of Ireland. Not even Castlereagh had ever dared to speak of partition.

The Chairman (Mr. Wm. Russell) said at the next meeting of the Board they would express their opinions as Tipperary men on the wretched attempt at dividing up Ireland.

Two Parliaments.

The fact that Sir Edward Carson—following the example of Mr. Winston Churchill—has appealed to the public through a Sunday newspaper is in itself an illustration of his theme. That theme is the staleness and unrepresentative character of the present Parliament, and the necessity of revivifying it, like Antaeus, by a new contact with its source. Sir Edward Carson's article is an expansion of his recent speech in the House of Commons which killed the Government's proposal to appoint a Select Committee on registration. We must have a new register, but the Government must shoulder its proper responsibilities. "The present House of Commons, as a whole, elected under conditions now dead, has lost all authority, and therefore all right to exist." The war has created a new England, which must have a new voice in Parliament. The electorate has changed its ideas—notably on the subject of international trade. The problems which must be attacked at the end of the war will brook no delay. "The moment peace begins to be talked of—I mean seriously talked of, not by mere faddists and cranks—that moment you will have to ascertain the real views of the country, and not merely the views of this House." A general election after peace has been declared will be too late, for then the problems will crowd upon a Parliament which will be unfit to deal with them. Sir Edward Carson puts aside with angry impatience all the objections which have been raised against a general election during the period of the war. There will be difficulties, but it is the Government's duty to overcome them. He believes that a general election must take place during the war, and he hints that the end of the war may be nearer than some people imagine. Sir Edward Carson's article proves that the most active spirits in Parliament have no intention of dropping the registration question, and the Cabinet will be wise to recognise that in this matter the public opinion of the country is behind them.

We welcome this article for another reason. It suggests that Sir Edward Carson has revised his opinion of an important provision of the Home Rule "settlement," now fortunately deceased. Under the agreement the twenty-six Irish counties were to have had their present representation stereotyped in the Irish House of Commons until the permanent settlement of the whole Irish question. The almost inevitably mischievous results of this arrangement are exposed effectively in Sir Edward Carson's article. The present Nationalist Party was elected more than six years ago, and all the objections to it on the ground of staleness and want of contact with the electors are as valid as in the case of the English and Scottish members. Indeed, while it is probable that the sitting members in Great Britain have lost "all authority," it is not merely probable, but certain, that the sitting Nationalist members have lost every fragment of their authority. Their "self-confidence" is, indeed, impaired "by the knowledge that they may have lost touch with public opinion." In the next place, the present Nationalist members were elected to win Home Rule. It would be the business of the first Irish House of Commons to inaugurate and administer Home Rule. The two functions are utterly different; it is not too much to say that the very qualities which make for success in the one would make for failure in the other. It may be said that the character of the new Irish House of Commons would have been a trivial consideration compared with that of the Parliament at Westminster which must deal with the first problems of peace, but Sir Edward Carson would be the first to repudiate such a suggestion. The character of the Irish House of Commons would have decided the fate of the Home Rule experiment; and the success or failure of that experiment, as Sir Edward Carson insisted from the outset, would have decided the future of Unionist Ulster. The proposed Irish House of Commons was to have "wooed" Ulster into the Home Rule scheme. The issue would have been one of "momentous import," yet it was to have been put in the hands of a party which has lost the confidence of its own supporters, and, as Sir Edward Carson says of the whole House of Commons, was "elected under conditions now dead, has lost all authority, and therefore all right to exist."

The present position of the Nationalist Party is a paradox. It has returned nominally to Parnell's attitude of "indedependent opposition" in the House of Commons, but it dares not challenge the Government on any vital point. In the first place, it knows that to provoke a general election would be to commit political hari-kari. In the next place, it knows that England will not tolerate any serious attempt to distract her attention from the war. Mr. Redmond has announced, therefore, what we may call a middle policy. His attitude—hitherto admirable—on the war remains "unalterable," but he now intends "to exercise an independent judgment in criticising the ever-increasing vacillation and procrastination which seem to form the entire policy of the Government not only with respect to Ireland, but also with reference to the whole conduct of this war." As to the Nationalist Party and the war we shall only say that if, as Mr. Redmond implies, he has abstained more than once from criticism when criticism seemed to be necessary, no motive can justify his silence. The Government's policy for the temporary administration of Ireland will be announced to-day, and we shall know soon what Mr. Redmond means by "an independent judgment in criticising" it. We refuse the right of independent judgment to nobody, and we intend to exercise it ourselves; but we hope earnestly that to-day Mr. Redmond will recognise his tremendous responsibilities to Parliament and to his own country. As we have said, the Nationalist Party's position is paradoxical. It cannot put the Government's life in danger; it cannot impose its own will on the Government; but, if it chooses, it can embarrass very gravely the Government's measures for the immediate management of Irish affairs. Broken though its authority is in Ireland, it is still a great power for good or evil. We urge upon Mr. Redmond the duty and wisdom of mastering his natural irritation at the failure of his plans, and of using his power for good. The country wants peace and settled government; it wants opportunities for reconciliation; it wants to re-mould the sorry scheme of things nearer to its heart's desire. If the Government's measures give promise of peace and opportunity, the party which sets itself to kill or obstruct them will be challenging the best opinion, Unionist and Nationalist, in Ireland.

Russian Victories.

Yesterday's Russian communiqué is chiefly occupied with the tale of the captures of men and war material which have been made in the course of the new advances in Volhynia and in the Dniester basin. A few lines suffice for a statement of the general nature of the battle after the splendid mid-week accomplishment. On the Stokhod Russian troops are consolidating their positions on the left bank. The German communiqué, however, suggests that the enemy is making specially desperate efforts to drive the victorious Russians back across the river, which was so formidable a barrier across the line of direct advance towards Kovel. The consolidation of the new positions in such circumstances is, therefore, positive gain. For the rest, the news given in the statement from Petrograd is general, but good. Towards Kovel, about Brody, and south of the Dniester, the Russians "continue to advance and pursue the enemy." The great drive has not lost its momentum. The capture of towns still appeals to the public imagination, and of the recent successes General Sakharoff's occupation of Brody, which was reported on Saturday, possesses, at the moment, the chief interest for casual students of the war map. It deserves, indeed, more than the ordinary amount of attention. The town of Brody stands a few miles from the frontier which divides Galician territory of Austria from Russia. It is now almost two years since Russian troops first entered the town, for it was at this point that they crossed the frontier soon after the opening of hostilities. That was the first move in an advance which extended through Lemberg and Przemysl to the banks of the Dunajec River, there to be stemmed by a rally of the enemy's forces under Mackensen. The public will not expect the new advance upon Lemberg to be made with the former rapidity. It is sufficiently good news at present that the Russian Army is in a condition to institute such an advance at all, so soon after the trying experiences of last year, and that the enemy, on the other hand, seems to be in no condition to offer effective resistance to the onset. On the latter point the figures relating to captures of prisoners and guns afford striking evidence. In the past fortnight—the period of General Sakharoff's advance up the valley of the Styr, across the Slonowka and Boldurka, tributaries of that river, and into Brody—his forces have taken forty thousand officers and men, and a large number of guns and machine guns. Nearly fourteen thousand officers and men (included in the larger total) were taken in the last three days of the advance, and it is plain that large elements of the Austrian Army have been demoralised by the swiftness and energy of the Russian onslaught. Further large captures were made by another of General Brussiloff's armies in the operations west of Lutsk, where the Austrian General Linsingen's front was broken on Friday; and by General Letchitsky's troops, which, by an operation described in the Russian report as a slashing coup, and in the Austrian report as shock tactics, have defeated the enemy in the country lying between the River Dniester and the foothills of the Carpathians. Hindenburg's expected blow in the north, which was to have diverted the attention of the Russian command from the prosecution of these successful southern operations, has still not fallen. If it is to fall—a daily fading prospect—it will not achieve the desired object. The Russian command plainly has the whole situation well in hand, for it has spared an abundance of men and material for the minor, but not unimportant, operations against the Turks in Armenia, whence the news continues to be good for the Allies and bad—loth as they are to admit it—for the Turks.

Cricket and War.

The good object that was served by the cricket match in the College Park indemnified those members of the public who allowed themselves the pleasure of watching the play against suspicion of undue frivolity at a grave time. The match revived feelings that have been cold—perhaps, it would be better to say, that have been transfused in the martial flame—for two summers. There was a certain under-note of sadness in last week's reconstruction of a once familiar scene—familiar in a time not far distant, and yet separated from the present by a yawning gap. Let us not dwell, however, upon that aspect of the scene: it remains all too insistently in many minds. There was much in the spectacle and in the play itself to enjoy. The first day's play told its own story of a pre-occupation that prevents the present fulfilment of the highest standard of "form" at cricket. Batsmen had short "lives," and both sides got through an innings within the limit of the afternoon. The way was left clear, however, for a particularly interesting second day's play; and Saturday afternoon was occupied with a struggle which was thoroughly sportsmanlike and exciting. The closing half-hour of the game, when the Military side, having gone in with an hour and three-quarters in which to make 141 to win, were fast attaining that score—and did, in fact, attain it, with three wickets in hand, but not a minute to spare—recalled in its incidents some of the best matches that have been played in the College Park. Mr. Lambert took a sportsmanlike risk in declaring his side's innings at 133 for eight wickets, and leaving the Military almost two hours for reply. It is pleasant to think that the one first-class game of this season that is not a season was a good sporting game.

THE ZEPPELIN RAID ON EAST COAST.

GERMAN REPORT OF THE AFFAIR.

The following communiqué was issued by the Field-Marshal Commanding-in-Chief, Home Forces, at 1.30 p.m., 29th July, 1916:—

Three airships raided the East coast between midnight and 1.30 a.m.

Thirty-two bombs were dropped in Lincolnshire and Norfolk, but no material damage and no casualties were caused. Many other bombs were reported to have fallen in the sea.

At one place anti-aircraft guns were in action, and succeeded in driving off the aircraft from their objective.

The raiders appear to have been greatly hampered by fog.

A Norwich Eastern Daily Press correspondent telegraphed on Saturday:—The Zeppelins participating in the latest raids gave some of their attention to the East coast, but, so far as can be ascertained in a tour of several miles of coast line this morning, the only "casualty" is one cow killed, the other damage consisting of a couple of holes in fields.

GERMAN REPORT.

A Berlin official telegram says:—On the night of the 28th inst. a naval airship squadron attacked the English coast, dropping bombs on the railway depot at Lincoln and industrial establishments near Norwich, the naval bases of Grimsby and Immingham, and on the advance port vessels off the Humber. The lighthouse at the mouth of the Humber was destroyed. Despite the fact that the airships were fired at with incendiary projectiles, they all returned undamaged to their harbours.

CHIEF OF THE NAVAL STAFF.

The Press Bureau states:—

The German report of the air raid of the night of the 28th-29th July is full of the usual inaccuracies.

OPERATIONS IN EGYPT.

(PRESS ASSOCIATION WAR SPECIAL.)
PRESS BUREAU, SUNDAY, 9.20 P.M.

The Secretary of the War Office makes the following announcement:—

Telegraphing from Egypt, the General Officer Commanding-in-Chief reports that there were several patrol engagements with the enemy on July 28th. In one of these the New Zealand Mounted Rifles caused some fifty casualties to the enemy, and the total casualties for the day were very slight.

REPORTED NAVAL BATTLE.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)
STOCKHOLM, SATURDAY.

The Dagens Nyheter says that a number of rumours are current that an important naval battle, east of Gotland, has taken place, but so far nothing more definite is known than that a heavy cannonade has been heard, and that a large squadron of Zeppelins was sighted on Thursday going northwards. Four large German cruisers were going at full speed northward this afternoon from the direction of Danzig.

AIR FIGHT IN NORTH SEA.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)
AMSTERDAM, SATURDAY.

According to the Telegraaf's correspondent at Breckens, fishermen returning there report that at noon yesterday they witnessed an air fight between a great number of aeroplanes over the North Sea. As far as they could see, none of the machines was brought down. The fishermen also saw a heavily laden cargo vessel being escorted to Zeebrugge by torpedo boats.

GIFTS FOR AUSTRALIAN TROOPS.

The Princess Royal, accompanied by Princess Maud, on Saturday afternoon at Wellington Barracks presented to Australian troops a silken flag and silver shield from the women and children of the British Isles, under the auspices of the League of Empire. The emblems were received by Brigadier-General McNicholl on behalf of the General Officer Commanding the Australian Troops, General Sir Newton Moore.

PETROL FOR MUNITIONS WORK.

The Press Bureau announces that persons and firms engaged in transport work for munition purposes or using petrol for power should not regard as final the first consignment of petrol made to them. The Ministry of Munitions are taking steps to ensure the provision of essential supplies for munition purposes. If persons or firms engaged on munitions to whom the supply of petrol is insufficient for requirements will furnish particulars of needs to the local area office of the Ministry of Munitions applications will receive consideration.

The King held an Investiture on Saturday at Buckingham Palace, and decorated over fifty naval and military officers and about twenty Red Cross nurses for war services.

LONDON CORRESPONDENCE.

153 FLEET STREET, LONDON,
SUNDAY NIGHT.

The murder of Captain Fryatt at Bruges has caused a thrill of horror throughout the civilised world. That a simple seaman, who once had done his best to save his ship from being sunk under an illegal condition, should be done to death many months afterwards, contrary to the laws of war professedly observed by his murderers, will give neutrals something to think over. American newspaper opinion generally condemns this murder. The New York Herald remarks that "expiation awaits Germany, and among the crimes to be paid with blood and iron is this murder of a gallant seaman of the finest type." It is almost certain that the murder will be discussed in the House of Commons to-morrow, and there is a general desire that the Government shall exact reparation in some way or other. That the Government is awake to the situation is certain, and the Prime Minister may possibly be in a situation to make a statement.

It is suggested to-day that the widow and seven children of Captain Fryatt should be provided for most liberally out of the German monies held in this country. This seems to be a reasonable suggestion, and it is to be hoped that the Government will act upon it. If this is not done, the Government will have to see that the innocent victims of German barbarity are not left to private charity for a subsistence. It is probable that the railway company employing Captain Fryatt will see that the dependents do not want, but public feeling will call for something more than that.

It is two months since the last enemy aircraft raid on this country took place. It occurred on May 20, when three seaplanes dropped bombs on the east coast of Kent. One person was killed and two were injured. The raid on Friday night seems to have been altogether harmless, except for a small destruction of property. Taking the raid together with the murder of Captain Fryatt, it looks as though the German Imperial Chancellor's decision on frightfulness with regard to England had been overruled, and we may expect further raids when the weather serves. British courage and determination at the front will, however, help to keep up the courage and determination of those at home; but all these outrages will be remembered when our day comes for reckoning the cost.

The latest official communiqué from Petrograd shows that the Russian victory in the south has been a very important one. The troops of our Ally continue to advance, and the captures of men and material have been immense. From the 16th to the 18th of July the number of officers taken by the forces under General Sakharoff was 940, with 39,152 men. Guns numbered 49, howitzers 17, and machine guns 100. These are figures that the Germans cannot explain away, for they speak for themselves. The feeling in Germany, if this news were published in full, would be serious.

Several important debates have been arranged for the House of Commons during the coming week. To-morrow Mr. Dillon's motion on the government of Ireland will probably occupy the whole day, though the debate must conclude at eleven o'clock, since the Standing Orders are not to be suspended. On Tuesday the Prime Minister will introduce a motion providing for the shortening of the remaining days allotted to Supply under the Standing Orders, and afterwards the third reading of the Consolidated Fund Bill will be taken. Wednesday will be devoted to a discussion on the action the Government proposes to take on the economic resolutions passed at the recent Conference in Paris. No business has been put down for Thursday.

It is possible that the Prime Minister may take advantage of the opportunity given him by the debate to-morrow to announce the names of a new Lord Lieutenant and a new Chief Secretary. No name is at present whispered with regard to the first-named post, but both Sir Mark Sykes and Mr. Duke are mentioned in connection with the Chief Secretaryship. It seems to be regarded as certain that the new Chief Secretary will be a Unionist.

The Prime Minister is to be asked by Mr. Dillon to-morrow when the evidence taken by the Hardinge Commission will be published.

Representatives of over thirty branches of the Irish Self-Help Society of Great Britain met yesterday at High Holborn. A discussion, initiated by Mr. F. X. O'Reilly, of Leeds, on the exclusion of the six Ulster counties from the operation of the Home Rule Act took place. A resolution emphatically protesting against the proposed exclusion of the six Ulster counties was passed, as was also one promising financial support to candidates who opposed members of Parliament who favoured exclusion.

Sir Edward Carson has a most interesting article in the Sunday Illustrated Herald to-day. He explains that his persistence in demanding a measure dealing with a register of voters is because the country may find itself in the near future—and it may be nearer than some people imagine, he adds—in no condition to deal effectively with the most vital issues arising directly out of the war. He is of opinion that the British democracy has a right to some share in the control of its own destiny, and concludes by saying: "The German people will, no doubt, have to submit to whatever arrangements it may please the Kaiser and his Chancellor to impose upon them; but are the British people to be no less completely in the hands of Mr. Asquith and Viscount Grey? That is really the question involved in the demand for a Registration Bill; for, unless the constituencies are thereby renewed, the nation will be dumb at the moment when in all its history it will have the best right to let its voice be heard."

Mr. Lough will ask the Prime Minister to-morrow whether he can now state how long it is intended that the present sittings of Parliament shall continue, and when it will be necessary for the House to reassemble.

Viscount Grey of Falloden, the Foreign Secretary, is expected to take his seat in the House of Lords on Tuesday afternoon. He will enjoy a rare experience, for he will be entitled to enter the House wearing his blue ribbon of the Garter, an Order seldom given to Commoners. Custom dictates that he shall be introduced by two Viscounts, and it is probable that Lord Haldane will be one.

No news has yet been received of the departure of the German submarine Deutschland from Baltimore, but it is said that the departure is delayed because the commander of the vessel has been warned by the United States that certain questions between its Government and that of Great Britain are still unsettled. One relates to a definition of the three-mile limit. British patrol vessels have hitherto not observed this as from headland to headland, but follow the windings of the coastline. If this principle is adhered to the Deutschland may meet with trouble when she starts. Differences have also arisen regarding the status of the vessel and the nature of the cargo. The vessel is said to be laden with nickel and rubber. Both of these things are allowed in the United States by Great Britain under an express agreement that not a particle of either shall be allowed to pass into German hands. If the vessel sails, this agreement has been broken, and Great Britain might refuse to allow any more rubber or nickel to enter the States, or at least forbid the export to those who let their supplies fall into German possession.

A Pretoria telegram states that General Botha and his colleagues cabled to General Lukin on Friday, expressing their pride, admiration, and satisfaction at the part played by the South Africans in the noteworthy feat of arms at Delville.

BRITISH TRADING WITH AMERICA.

THE BLACK LIST.

UNITED STATES PROTEST.

The Foreign Office forwards the following for publication:—

London, July 28th, 1916.
URGENT.

MY LORD,—Pursuant to instructions from my Government, I have the honour to transmit to your lordship the following communication, which I have just received by telegram:—

"The announcement that His Britannic Majesty's Government has placed the names of certain persons, firms, and corporations in the United States upon a proscriptive black list, and has forbidden all financial or commercial dealings between them and the citizens of Great Britain, has been received with the most painful surprise by the people and Government of the United States, and seems to the Government of the United States to embody a policy of arbitrary interference with neutral trade, against which it is its duty to protest in the most decided terms.

"The scope and effect of the policy are extraordinary. British steamship companies will not accept cargoes from the proscribed firms or persons, or transport their goods to any port, and steamship lines, if it is true, of neutral ownership understand that if they accept freight from them they are likely to be denied coal at British ports, and excluded from other privileges which they have usually enjoyed, and may themselves be put upon the black list. Neutral bankers refuse loans to those on the list, and neutral merchants decline to contract for their goods, fearing a like proscription. It appears that British officials regard the prohibitions of the black list as applicable to domestic commercial transactions in foreign countries, as well as in Great Britain and her dependencies; for Americans doing business in foreign countries have been put on notice that their dealings with black-listed firms are to be regarded as subject to veto by the British Government. By the same principle, Americans in the United States might be made subject to similar punitive action if they were found dealing with any of their own countrymen whose names had thus been listed.

"The harsh, even disastrous, effects of this policy upon the trade of the United States and upon the neutral rights, upon which it will not fail to insist, are obvious. Upon the list of those proscribed and, in effect, shut out from the general commerce of the world, may be found American concerns which are engaged in large commercial operations as importers of foreign products and materials, and as distributors of American products and manufactures to foreign countries, and which constitute important channels through which American trade reaches the outside world. Their foreign affiliations may have been fostered for many years, and, when once broken, cannot easily or promptly be re-established. Other concerns may be put upon the list at any time, and without notice. It is understood that additions to the proscription may be made whenever, on account of enemy nationality or 'enemy associations' of such persons or bodies of persons, it appears to His Majesty expedient to do so. The possibilities of undeserved injury to American citizens from such measures, arbitrarily taken, and of serious and incalculable interruptions of American trade are without limit.

A PLEA OF RIGHTS.

"It has been stated, on behalf of His Majesty's Government, that these measures were aimed only at the enemies of Great Britain, and would be adopted and enforced with strict regard to the rights of neutrals, and with the least possible detriment to neutral trade. But it is evident that they are inevitably and essentially inconsistent with the rights of the citizens of all nations not involved in the war.

"The Government of the United States begs to remind the Government of His Britannic Majesty that citizens of the United States are entirely within their rights in attempting to trade with the people or the Governments of any of the nations now at war, subject only to well-defined international practice and understandings, which the Government of the United States deems the Government of Great Britain to have too lightly and too frequently disregarded. There are well-known remedies and penalties for breaches of the blockade, where the blockade is real, and, in fact, effective, for trade in contraband, for every unneutral act by whomsoever attempted. The Government of the United States cannot consent to see these remedies and penalties altered or extended at the will of a Power or group of Powers, to the injury of its own citizens, or in derogation of its own rights. Conspicuous among the principles which the civilised nations of the world have accepted for the safeguarding of the rights of neutrals is the just and honourable principle that neutrals may not be condemned, nor their goods confiscated, except upon fair adjudication, and after an opportunity to be heard in prize courts or elsewhere. Such safeguards the black list brushes aside. It condemns without hearing, without notice, and in advance. It is manifestly out of the question that the Government of the United States should acquiesce in such methods or applications of punishment to its citizens. Whatever may be said with regard to the legality, in view of the international obligation of the Act of Parliament upon which the practice of the black list, as now employed by His Majesty's Government, is understood to be based, the Government of the United States is constrained to regard that practice as inconsistent with that true justice, sincere amity, and impartial fairness which should characterise the dealings of friendly Governments with one another. The spirit of reciprocal trade between the United States and Great Britain, the privilege long accorded to the nationals of each to come and go with their ships and cargoes, to use each other's shipping, and be served each by the other's merchants, is very seriously impaired by arbitrary and sweeping practices such as this.

"There is no purpose or inclination on the part of the Government of the United States to shield American citizens or business houses in any way from the legitimate consequence of unneutral acts or practices: it is quite willing that they should suffer the appropriate penalties which international law and the usage of nations have sanctioned; but His Britannic Majesty's Government cannot expect the Government of the United States to consent to see its citizens put upon an ex parte black list without calling the attention of His Majesty's Government, in the gravest terms, to the many serious consequences to neutral right and neutral relations which such an act must necessarily involve. It hopes and believes that His Majesty's Government, in its natural absorption in a single pressing object of policy, has acted without a full realisation of the many undesired and undesirable results that might ensue.

"I have the honour to be, with the highest considerations, my lord, your most obedient, humble servant,

"WALTER HINES PAGE.

"The Right Hon. the Viscount Grey of Fallodon, K.G., etc."

GREAT DESTRUCTION OF MUNITIONS.

FIRE AND EXPLOSIONS AT NEW JERSEY.

MANY PERSONS INJURED.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)
NEW YORK, SUNDAY.

A hundred car-loads and several barges containing ammunition, at the wharf of the National Storage Company, near Communipaw, New Jersey, have exploded. The whole of New York felt the shock of the explosion.

A later telegram says:—

Many lives have undoubtedly been lost, and enormous damage done to property as the result of the explosion of dynamite and munitions stored in a small island in New York Harbour. Ordinarily some two hundred workmen are employed in the vicinity, but owing to the early hour, shortly after 2 a.m., when the explosion occurred, it is hoped that the death list will be relatively small. Seventy-five persons have already been taken to hospital. The loss through breakage of glass alone, in New York, Brooklyn, and Jersey City, amounts to millions of dollars.

It is reported that the buildings on Ellis Island, the emigration station, have been damaged to the extent of a million dollars.

The fire is said to have started in a munition storehouse, and spread to a lighter loaded with shrapnel. The bullets of exploding shells are believed to have fired the dynamite which was on the trucks. The country for miles round was shaken as by an earthquake. The island where the explosion occurred is a mass of wreckage.

KING AND QUEEN VISIT WOUNDED SOLDIERS.

The King and Queen paid a surprise visit on Saturday to West Ham Hospital, where there are at present 76 wounded soldiers. Their Majesties were received by the Duchess of Marlborough, Lady President of the Hospital, and the heads of the institution. They visited the wards in which the wounded were accommodated, and spoke to each of the patients. Subsequently Their Majesties visited other wards of the hospital, including that occupied by the children, in which the Queen evinced much interest.

FROM "THE TIMES" OF TO-DAY.

(BY SPECIAL ARRANGEMENT WITH THE PROPRIETORS OF THE TIMES.)

A TEMPORARY IRISH EXECUTIVE.

It is understood, says The Times, that the Prime Minister will announce in the House of Commons this afternoon the plans of the Government for a temporary Irish Executive. He promised Mr. Healy last week that he would deal with the question of the vacant offices of Lord Lieutenant and Chief Secretary and other kindred matters in the debate on the motion which Mr. Dillon will move to-day. The motion emphasises the urgency of an immediate disclosure by the Government of their plans for the government of Ireland during the continuance of the war. The debate, which will probably range over the whole Irish question, is awaited with great interest. It is expected to last until 11 o'clock, and urgent "Whips" have been sent to members of all parties.

IRISH SETTLEMENT.

In a letter to The Times, Sir Henry Blake, writing from Youghal, County Cork, says:—There are in Ireland turbulent elements, always present, but easily controllable by precautionary firmness, to the absence of which the late outbreak is largely due. The incompetent heads of the Irish Executive have disappeared, and their replacement by more capable administrators would leave Ireland in a normal state that would relieve the Government from local preoccupation, and enable them to devote their energies to the prosecution of the war. The solution is simple. Drop this unnecessary contention over the suspended Home Rule Act during the war, and appoint to the three vacant offices—the Viceroyalty and Chief and Under-Secretaryships—three strong Irishmen to carry out the duties of these offices pending the ultimate settlement that must be considered after the conclusion of the war. This may be acceptable, even to the advocates of Home Rule.

A COUNCIL OF IRISHMEN.

Mr. Lewis Haslam, M.P., writes to The Times to-day:—Home Rule is now assured; the question is whether the exact terms of the Act on the Statute Book can be amended with benefit to Irish and Imperial prospects. It appears to me the most hopeful manner of dealing with the immediate situation would be afforded by the appointment for a limited period of a council of Irishmen, small in numbers, with, of course, if they would agree to serve, Mr. Redmond and Sir Edward Carson members of it. During this period the Imperial Parliament would be represented by a Chief Secretary, with a seat in the Cabinet. The Council would be entrusted with the internal government of Ireland. It should have, I think, the still more important function of endeavouring to focus Irish opinion in such a manner as may lead to a settlement of the Ulster problem by consent, by some method more satisfactory to Ireland than could be expected to emanate from a Parliament not only distrusted by so many Irishmen, but whose multitudinous duties and complex party character present a bar to that devoted attention the Irish question requires.

ON THE SOMME.

The battle of the Somme (says The Times) has not slackened, but its character has undergone a temporary modification. Just now the conflicts are more localised, and tend to resolve themselves into desperate struggles for particular patches of ground. These hand-to-hand encounters grow more fierce, and both sides fight with the most stubborn resolution. The British troops are losing no ground, and sometimes they gain a little. Over all the din of these local combats the heavy mutual bombardment continues without cessation. The Germans have increased the strength of their artillery fire, but we have done likewise. They cannot outmatch us with their guns, but the exchange of artillery fire has reached a pitch of violence which only a few months ago would have been thought incredible.

THE STOCK EXCHANGE.

The Stock Exchange on Saturday, says The Times, passed one of the idlest days experienced for a considerable time past, almost the only department in which there were any signs of activity being that for Shipping Securities, where prices showed a reactionary tendency after the recent outburst of strength. At the mining end of the House, Cam and Motor Shares again met with support.

APPAM CASE DECIDED AGAINST GERMANY.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAMS.)
NORFOLK (VIRGINIA), SATURDAY.

The Federal Court has decided in favour of the British owners in the German Prize Crew's proceedings for possession of the Appam. The Court held that the German Government lost all legal claim to the Appam and her cargo as prizes of war when the captain brought the Appam into neutral waters with the intention of laying up the vessel indefinitely. The chief passage in the Court's judgment is as follows: "The Court's conclusion is that the manner of bringing the Appam into the United States waters, as well as her presence in those waters, constitutes a violation of the neutrality of the United States, in that she came without bidding or permission, that she is unable to leave for lack of crew, which cannot be provided or augmented without further violation of neutrality; that to all practical purposes she must be treated as abandoned, or stranded upon our shores, and her owners are entitled to the restitution of their property, irrespective of any Prize Court proceedings of any Court of the Imperial German Government, and it will be so ordered." The Court further decided that a prize vessel cannot legally be brought into neutral waters without a convoy, and disposed of the question of the Hague Treaty by briefly observing that it was not applicable, inasmuch as Great Britain has never accepted it. The decision comes as a hard blow to German officials who have indicated that there will probably be an appeal to the Supreme Court of the United States.

WASHINGTON, SATURDAY.

The internment of the German prize crew of the Appam is expected, as the result of the general Court's decision. The State Department officials intimate informally that the prize crew will probably be sent to join the crews of the raiders Prinz Eitel Friedrich and Kronprinz Wilhelm, in the Norfolk Navy yard.

WAR ITEMS.

Australia Day was held throughout the country in aid of the Wounded Soldiers Fund. The utmost enthusiasm was manifested. The receipts will make this fund alone over £300,000.

Ostensibly in order that Germany should be supplied with the "real truth only," no English newspapers are allowed to cross the frontier from Holland. An Amsterdam newsagent has had all his newspaper parcels returned from the German frontier.

A Melbourne telegram states that the Government, under its extended powers of fixing prices, has proclaimed that prices charged for a long list of foodstuffs and necessary commodities must not exceed those which ruled on July 1.

Mr. Jensen, Australian Minister for the Navy, has announced that a British shipping firm has offered the Commonwealth six almost new steamers, each approximately 11,000 tons, with a speed of about 12 knots. The terms of the offer are not divulged, but the expenditure is unofficially estimated at two millions sterling.

According to the Helsingborg Dagblad, as the captured Wilson boat, Eskimo, was passing Helsingborg under escort of German torpedo boats, a British seaman jumped overboard and swam to a Danish yacht which was lying close by. The man safely reached the yacht, and was successfully landed at Helsingborg.

The Bishop of London has concluded a visit to the Grand Fleet, during which he has addressed officers and men in every battleship and battle cruiser and flagships of light cruisers at all bases, and held short Services for them. He also addressed three mass meetings, one of sailors in a dry dock, one of trawlers, and one of crews of destroyers. He also confirmed two hundred men.

Mr. Pearce, Australian Minister of Defence, states that the Commonwealth had not objected to Mr. Fisher, the High Commissioner in London, taking a seat on the Commission of Inquiry on the Dardanelles campaign on the express understanding that, as the Commonwealth has not been informed or consulted regarding the appointment or the scope of the Commission, Mr. Fisher could not be regarded as representing Australia.

BRITISH TRADING WITH AMERICA.

THE BLACK LIST.

UNITED STATES PROTEST.

The Foreign Office forwards the following for publication :—

London, July 28th, 1916.

Whatever may be said with regard to legal rights, in view of the international obligation of the Act of Parliament upon which the legality of the black list, as now employed by His Majesty's Government, is understood to be based, the Government of the United States is constrained to regard that practice as inconsistent with that true justice, sincere amity, and impartial fairness which should characterise the dealings of friendly Governments with one another. The spirit of reciprocal friendship between the United States and Great Britain, the privilege long accorded to the nationals of each to come and go with their ships and cargoes, to use each other's shipping, and be served each by the other's merchants, is very seriously impaired by arbitrary and sweeping practices such as this.

"There is no purpose or inclination on the part of the Government of the United States to shield American citizens or business houses in any way from the legitimate consequence of unneutral acts or practices; it is quite willing that they should suffer the appropriate penalties which international law and the usage of nations have sanctioned; but His Britannic Majesty's Government cannot expect the Government of the United States to consent to see its citizens put upon an ex parte black list without calling the attention of His Majesty's Government, in the gravest terms, to the many serious infringements of neutral rights and neutral relations which such an act must necessarily involve. It hopes and believes that His Majesty's Government, in the natural absorption in a single pressing object of policy, has acted without a full realisation of the many undesired and undesirable results that might ensue.

"I have on hand to-day, with the highest considerations, my lord, your most obedient, humble servant,

"WALTER HINES PAGE.

GREAT DESTRUCTION OF MUNITIONS.

FIRE AND EXPLOSIONS AT NEW JERSEY.

MANY PERSONS INJURED.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

NEW YORK, SUNDAY.

A hundred car-loads and several barges containing ammunition, at the wharf of the National Storage Company, near Communipan, New Jersey, have exploded. The whole of New York felt the shock of the explosion.

A later telegram says :—

Many lives have undoubtedly been lost, and enormous damage done to property as the result of the explosion of dynamite and munitions stored in a small island in New York Harbour. Ordinarily some two hundred workmen are employed in the vicinity, but owing to the early hour, shortly after 2 a.m., when the explosion occurred, it is hoped that the death list will be relatively small. Seventy-five persons have already been taken to hospital, many through breakage of glass alone, in New York, Brooklyn, and Jersey City, amounts to millions of dollars.

It is reported that the buildings on Ellis Island, the emigration station, have been damaged to the extent of a million dollars.

The fire is said to have started in a munition storehouse, and spread to a barge loaded with shrapnel. The bullets of exploding shells are believed to have fired the dynamite which was on the trucks. The country for miles round was shaken as by an earthquake. The island where the explosion occurred is a mass of wreckage.

KING AND QUEEN VISIT WOUNDED SOLDIERS.

The King and Queen paid a surprise visit on Saturday to West Ham Hospital, where there are at present 76 wounded soldiers. Their Majesties were received by the Duchess of Marlborough, Lady President of the Hospital, and the heads of the institution. They visited the wards in which the wounded were accommodated, and spoke to each of the patients. Subsequently Their Majesties visited other wards of the hospital, including that occupied by the children, in which the Queen evinced much interest.

FROM "THE TIMES" OF TO-DAY.

(BY SPECIAL ARRANGEMENT WITH THE PROPRIETORS OF THE TIMES.)

A TEMPORARY IRISH EXECUTIVE.

It is understood, says The Times, that the Prime Minister will announce in the House of Commons this afternoon the plans of the Government for a temporary Irish Executive. He promised Mr. Healy last week that he would deal with the question of the vacant offices of Lord Lieutenant and Chief Secretary and other kindred matters in the debate on the motion which Mr. Dillon will move to-day. The motion emphasises the urgency of an immediate disclosure by the Government of their plans for the government of Ireland during the continuance of the war. The debate, which will probably range over the whole Irish question, is awaited with great interest. It is expected to last until 11 o'clock, and urgent "Whips" have been sent to members of all parties.

IRISH SETTLEMENT.

In a letter to The Times, Sir Henry Blake, writing from Youghal, County Cork, says :—There are in Ireland turbulent elements, always present, but easily controllable by precautionary firmness, to the absence of which the late outbreak is largely due. The incompetent heads of the Irish Executive have disappeared, and their replacement by more capable administrators would leave Ireland in a normal state that would relieve the Government from local preoccupation, and enable them to devote their energies to the prosecution of the war. The solution is simple. Drop this unnecessary contention over the suspended Home Rule Act during the war, and appoint to the three vacant offices—the Viceroyalty and Chief and Under-Secretaryships—three strong Irishmen to carry out the duties of these offices pending the ultimate settlement that must be considered after the conclusion of the war. This may be acceptable, even to the advocates of Home Rule.

A COUNCIL OF IRISHMEN.

Mr. Lewis Haslam, M.P., writes to The Times to-day :—Home Rule is now assured; the question is whether the exact terms of the Act on the Statute Book can be amended with benefit to Irish and Imperial prospects. It appears to me the most hopeful manner of dealing with the immediate situation would be afforded by the appointment for a limited period of a council of Irishmen, small in numbers, with, of course, if they would agree to serve, Mr. Redmond and Sir Edward Carson members of it. During this period the Imperial Parliament would be represented by a Chief Secretary, with a seat in the Cabinet. The Council would be entrusted with the internal government of Ireland. It should have, I think, the still more important function of endeavouring to focus Irish opinion in such a manner as may lead to a settlement of the Ulster problem by consent, by some method more satisfactory to Ireland than could be expected to emanate from a Parliament not only pursued by so many Irishmen, but whose multitudinous duties and complex party character present a bar to that devoted attention the Irish question requires.

ON THE SOMME.

The battle of the Somme (says The Times) has not slackened, but its character has undergone a temporary modification. Just now the conflicts are more localised, and tend to resolve themselves into desperate struggles for particular patches of ground. These hand-to-hand encounters grow more fierce, and both sides fight with the most stubborn resolution. The British troops are losing no ground, and sometimes they gain a little. Over all the din of these local combats the heavy mutual bombardment continues without cessation. The Germans have increased the strength of their artillery fire, but we have done likewise. They cannot outmatch us in the principles which the exchange of artillery fire has reached a pitch of violence which only a few months ago would have been thought incredible.

THE STOCK EXCHANGE.

The Stock Exchange on Saturday, says The Times, passed one of the idlest days experienced for a considerable time past. Almost the only department in which there were any signs of activity being that for Shipping Securities, where prices showed a reactionary tendency after the recent outbursts of strength. At the mining end of the House, Cam and Motor Shares again met with support.

APPAM CASE DECIDED AGAINST GERMANY.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAMS.)

NORFOLK (VIRGINIA), SATURDAY.

The Federal Court has decided in favour of the British owners in the German Prize Crew's proceedings for possession of the Appam. The Court held that the German Government lost all legal claim to the Appam and her cargo as prizes of war when the captain brought the Appam into neutral waters with the intention of laying up the vessel indefinitely. The chief passage in the Court's judgment is as follows :—"The Court's conclusion is that the manner of bringing the Appam into the United States waters, as well as her presence in those waters, constitutes a violation of the neutrality of the United States, in that she came without bidding or permission, that she is unable to leave for lack of crew, which cannot be provided or augmented without further violation of neutrality; that to all practical purposes she must be treated as abandoned, or stranded upon our shores, and her owners are entitled to the restitution of their property, irrespective of any Prize Court proceedings of any Court of the Imperial German Government, and it will be so ordered." The Court further decided that a prize vessel cannot legally be brought into neutral waters without a convoy, and disposed of the question of the Hague Treaty by briefly observing that it was not applicable, inasmuch as Great Britain has never accepted it. The decision comes as a hard blow to German officials who have indicated that there will probably be an appeal to the Supreme Court of the United States.

WASHINGTON, SATURDAY.

The internment of the German prize crew of the Appam is expected, as the result of the general Court's decision. The State Department officials intimate informally that the prize crew will probably be sent to join the crews of the raiders Prinz Eitel Friedrich and Kronprinz Wilhelm, in the Norfolk Navy yard.

WAR ITEMS.

Australia Day was held throughout the country in aid of the Wounded Soldiers Fund. The utmost enthusiasm was manifested. The receipts will make this fund alone over £300,000.

Ostensibly in order that Germany should be supplied with the "real truth only," no English newspapers are allowed to cross the frontier from Holland. An Amsterdam newsagent has had all his newspaper parcels returned from the German frontier.

A Melbourne telegram states that the Government, under its extended powers of fixing prices, has proclaimed that prices charged for a long list of foodstuffs and necessary commodities must not exceed those which ruled on July 1.

Mr. Jensen, Australian Minister for the Navy, has announced that a British shipping firm has offered the Commonwealth six almost new steamers, each approximately 11,000 tons, with a speed of about 12 knots. The terms of the offer are not divulged, but the expenditure is unofficially estimated at two millions sterling.

According to the Helsingborg Dagblad, as the captured Wilson boat, Eskimo, was passing Helsingborg under escort of German torpedo boats, a British seaman jumped overboard and swam to a Danish yacht which was lying close by. The man safely reached the yacht, and was successfully landed at Helsingborg.

The Bishop of London has concluded a visit to the Grand Fleet, during which he has addressed officers and men in every battleship and battle cruiser and flagships of light cruisers at all bases, and held short Services for them. He also addressed three mass meetings, one of sailors in a dry dock, one of trawlers, and one of crews of destroyers. He also confirmed two hundred men.

Mr. Pearce, Australian Minister of Defence, states that the Commonwealth had not objected to Mr. Fisher, the High Commissioner in London, taking a seat on the Commission of Inquiry on the Dardanelles campaign on the express understanding that, as the Commonwealth has not been informed or consulted regarding the appointment or the scope of the Commission, Mr. Fisher could not be regarded as representing Australia.

BIG RUSSIAN GAINS.

ADVANCES AT MANY POINTS.

BIG HAUL OF PRISONERS AND MUNITIONS.

GERMANS ADMIT REVERSE ON THE STOKHOD.

During the week-end the Russian troops continued to make progress at various points in the region of Brody, on the Stokhod in the direction of Kovel, and to the south of the Dneister.

The captures of officers and men, as well as munitions, has been large, and the numbers are still incomplete. General Brussiloff captured in two days two generals, 651 officers, and 32,000 men, while the troops of General Sakharoff captured between 16th and 28th July 940 officers and 39,152 men.

The German report admits the withdrawal from the Stokhod positions, which it says had been previously planned, with a view to taking a shorter line.

In the Caucasus the Turks admit the loss of Baiburt and Erzingan, but deny that the evacuation has altered the situation to any extent.

The Petrograd communiqué issued on Saturday afternoon says :—

Western Front—Yesterday a squadron of ten of our aeroplanes made a successful raid on Baranovitchi, dropping bombs on the railway buildings and rolling stock, and causing several fires.

North of Lake Miadziol Lieutenant Tomson, flying in a Neieuport machine, chased an enemy Albatross, which was flying over the township of Vudstaff, and pursued it as far as Kobylniki, where the Albatross disappeared in a north-westerly direction, while Tomson, after having subjected an enemy camp near the Kobylniki Aerodrome to the fire of his machine gun, returned safely to our lines.

General Brussiloff's Army, having taken the offensive, threw the enemy back along the whole front from the Koreli Rojistch Railway to the town of Brody, which it captured.

General Letchitchky's troops, by a dashing coup, threw the enemy back in the direction of Stanislavoff, south of the Dniester, making a number of prisoners, and capturing war material of which are now being listed. The naval division of natives of the Caucasus charged and captured Tezerzany on the Slumatche road.

According to supplementary reports the total number of prisoners made yesterday amounts to 400 officers and 20,000 men, while we captured 50 guns and up to many of machine guns and a large quantity of booty, which has not yet been classified.

Caucasus Front—Our advance in the direction of Sivas and Harput continues. We have made further prisoners in the direction of Missul. The Turks in the night of the 27th made a furious attack on the right wing of one of our forces, but were repulsed by a fierce counter-attack by our Georgian riflemen. The enemy withdrew in disorder, leaving arms and cartridges in our hands.

Saturday evening's communiqué :—

Western Front—On the Stokhod, in the region of Gulkvitchi, our elements, having built bridges, crossed to the left bank of the river, where they are strengthening their positions. Hostile aeroplanes flew over the region of Looguischin and Nanevitchi Station, where they dropped some bombs along the railway from Kovel to Rojistch.

Our troops continue to advance. The enemy is retiring beyond the River Stokhod.

Numerous enemy aeroplanes flew over our lines south-west of Lutsk, dropping bombs, and firing at our troops with machine guns.

South of the Dniester, in the direction of Stanislavoff, the enemy, pursued by our troops, retreated to a position previously organised by him.

Details regarding our trophies are still so incomplete that it is only possible to speak approximately of them.

It is established that up to the present the troops of General Brussiloff captured yesterday and part of to-day—

Two Generals,

More than 651 officers,

32,000 soldiers, including a large number of Germans.

They captured 114 guns, including 29 of heavy calibre.

Of this number the troops under General Letchitsky took 21 heavy German pieces and 85 machine guns.

The total number of prisoners and trophies partly includes those which General Sakharoff's troops took during the three days' fighting at Brody, to the number of

216 officers,

13,569 soldiers,

Nine guns,

Forty machine guns,

Nearly 15,000 rifles.

Altogether the troops under General Sakharoff have captured between July 16th and 28th,

940 officers,

39,152 soldiers,

49 guns, 17 of heavy calibre;

100 machine guns,

30 mine-throwers,

90 carts full of bombs,

75 artillery limbers,

59 machine gun carriages, and six depôts of artillery and engineering material.

Sunday afternoon's communiqué :—

Western Front—Over twelve German aeroplanes made a raid on Dvinsk, dropping about forty bombs. Twelve of our machines, in spite of enemy fire, engaged the German aeroplanes, and pursued them, the latter taking to flight.

Cavalry Captain Kosakoff, attached to the Flying Corps, overtook one of the German machines, and after a fierce encounter brought it down. We had no losses.

One of our air squadrons bombarded the railway station of Yelovka, east of Baranovitchi. We brought down an enemy aeroplane. We captured the enemy aviators, who belonged to the 35th German Air Detachment. The machine was burnt.

On the Stokhod our troops continued to consolidate their positions on the left bank of the river. In the direction of Brody and Kovel, as well as in the region south of the Dniester, our troops continue to advance and pursue the enemy.

Caucasus Front—In the district to the west of Gumishkhin the Turks took the offensive twice. They were repulsed in the direction of Sevas and Kharput. We again dislodged the Turks from a series of fortified positions.

Last night's communiqué :—

Stokhod—Fighting continues in our favour. We captured 961 prisoners. South of the Rozzschchy-Kovel Railway our troops have broken the enemy front, and continue their advance. We captured 317 Germans. A company of a rifle regiment, having penetrated the enemy's rear, charged an enemy battery, stopped a German cavalry attack, and returned in safety, having captured the commander of a regiment.

GERMAN REPORT.

Saturday's Berlin communiqué :—

ANGLO-FRENCH ADVANCE.

DESPERATE FIGHTING ON THE SOMME.

ENEMY'S VAIN EFFORTS TO RECAPTURE DELVILLE WOOD.

MUNSTERS AND CANADIANS IN ACTION

In last night's communiqué Sir Douglas Haig reports an advance in conjunction with the French on a front extending from the east of Delville Wood to the Somme.

The French late despatch last night also indicates new and vigorous action on the part of our Ally to the north of the Somme. Desperate fighting took place, as a result of which the French captured enemy trenches for a depth varying from 300 to 800 metres.

In his Saturday despatch Sir Douglas Haig reports very fierce attempts by the enemy to recapture Delville Wood. These attempts failed, with very heavy losses to the Germans. The communiqué states that two or three German regiments appear to have been annihilated in the wood.

Sunday afternoon's communiqué states that successful raids were carried out by the Canadians at Ypres and by the Munster Fusiliers at Loos, when severe casualties were inflicted on the enemy.

Our troops have made progress at three points in the region of Pozieres. Two raids attempted by the enemy against our front near the Hohenzollern Redoubt failed.

On the French front two enemy attacks south of Fleury were defeated with heavy loss to the enemy. Some progress was made at Chapelle St. Fine and at Thiaumont work.

A daring exploit by a French airman is officially reported. Sergeant-Major de Terbine attacked a German machine. He swooped upon his adversary, crashed into him, and fell with him. Both the French and German airmen were killed.

BRITISH OFFICIAL.

GENERAL HEADQUARTERS, FRANCE,

SATURDAY, 1.52 P.M.

Last night the enemy made two more desperate efforts to recapture Delville Wood, but was again repulsed on each occasion with heavy loss.

The hand-to-hand struggle north and north-east of Pozières and in the neighbourhood of High Wood continues without intermission, and we have made progress in all three places, despite violent opposition of the enemy.

Since yesterday the artillery fire on both sides has increased in intensity.

There is significant evidence to show that the losses inflicted by us on the enemy in the last few days have been extremely severe, particularly in the Delville Wood, where two or three regiments appear to have been annihilated.

SATURDAY, 10.30 P.M.

Except for mining local actions and some heavy artillery fire on both sides nothing of importance has occurred on the Somme front to-day.

On other parts of the British front there was the usual artillery activity. One of our patrols entered the enemy's trenches at Puits 14 Bis and killed several Germans. The enemy exploded a mine at Neuville St. Vaast and one at the Hairpin Crater without effect to us any damage or causing any casualties.

Three enemy aeroplanes were destroyed yesterday, and a German kite balloon was seen to fall in flames.

SUNDAY, 2.5 P.M.

Last night we heavily bombarded the enemy's trenches and reserve lines between the Ancre and the Somme. During this bombardment a hostile ammunition dépôt near Courcelette was exploded by our fire.

Parties of Canadian infantry successfully raided the enemy's trenches in two places south of Ypres, and the Royal Munster Fusiliers carried out a similar enterprise in the Loos salient. The enemy casualties were in each case severe.

Near the Hohenzollern redoubt the Germans attempted two raids; one of these failed to get further than our wire. The other succeeded in entering our front trench, but was immediately driven out.

SUNDAY, 11.12 P.M.

This morning, in co-operation with the French, on our right flank, an advance was made on a front extending from the east of Delville Wood to the Somme. As a result of heavy fighting we have made progress to the east of Waterlot Farm, Stones Wood, and Maltzorn Farm. The enemy was encountered in considerable strength, and must have suffered heavily. Some 250 prisoners have fallen into our hands.

On our right flank the French have also advanced their line.

In the neighbourhood of Pozières the day has been spent in strengthening the ground gained during the last week, and there has been no infantry fighting in that area to-day.

Three enemy aeroplanes were destroyed yesterday, and several others were forced to land in a damaged condition. Between the Ancre and the sea no incident of importance has occurred.

FRENCH OFFICIAL.

Saturday afternoon's Paris communiqué :—

On the front of the Somme two strong enemy detachments which attempted to reach our lines to the west of Vermand-Ovillers were repulsed by rifle fire.

On the left bank of the Ancre a German attempt on our positions at Hill 304 failed under our fire.

On the right bank two German attacks launched in the course of the night against a redoubt in the ravine to the south of Fleury were broken by our curtain and infantry fire, which inflicted serious losses on the enemy.

Our troops pursuing their local operations, have captured some elements of trenches to the north of La Chapelle St. Fine and in the region of the Thiaumont work, where we captured a machine gun.

The artillery duel is still lively in the sectors of the Fumin and Chenois Woods.

The night was calm on the rest of the front.

Aviation.—During the morning of July 27 a French aeroplane, piloted by Sergeant-Major de Terline, attacked a German machine flying over Chalons. The French pilot had just opened fire when his machine-gun jammed. The enemy took to flight.

Two of our aviators then noticed Sergeant-Major de Terline dash at full speed upon his adversary, overturning his machine and dragging him with him in his fall. The French pilot and the two German airmen, who fell within our lines, were all killed.

Sergeant-Major de Terline had already brought down two aeroplanes, and had just received the Military Medal.

In the region of Amiens our scouting aeroplanes have engaged in thirty-four fights, in the course of which five enemy machines were obliged to alight in a disabled condition. A sixth German aeroplane was brought down between Chaulnes and Roye.

In the night of the 28th to the 29th July our bombarding air squadrons carried out several operations. 207 shells were launched in all on bivouacs, dépôts, and railway stations along the enemy front.

Saturday evening's communiqué :—

There is nothing to report along the whole of the front with the exception of a fairly lively cannonade on the right bank of the Meuse in the region of Chapelle St. Fine.

I have obtained all the information and explanations I have required in the course of my examination in detail of the foregoing Profit and Loss Account and Balance Sheet.

I have verified the Investments of the Company. They stand at the prices current on the 30th July, 1914. Investments made since that date are taken at cost price. I have also found the Cash and Bills in hand at the Head Office.

The Balance Sheet is, in my opinion, properly drawn up so as to exhibit a true and correct view of the state of the Company's affairs according to the best of my information and the explanations given to me, and as shown by the Books of the Company and the certified Returns from the several Branches.

PILGRIMAGE TO CROAGH-PATRICK.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

WESTPORT, SUNDAY.

The annual pilgrimage to Croaghpatrick took place to-day under weather conditions which were not at all too promising. Two special trains arrived from Dublin on Saturday conveying pilgrims from the metropolis and other parts of Ireland, as well as from England and Scotland. The ordinary trains were also utilised by pilgrims, and fourteen special trains were run during the long hours of this morning. In all over ten thousand people travelled to Westport over the Midland Great Western system, which is something like a similar number came by other conveyances. Mr. Thomas Elliott, traffic manager, assisted by the district inspector, Mr. Kerrigan, superintended the arrival and departure of the trains. A thick mist hung over the mountain all the morning, but, notwithstanding this fact, numbers of pilgrims reached the summit shortly after daybreak. Eighteen Masses were celebrated in the Oratory on the summit.

FINANCIAL NEWS

LONDON STOCK MARKETS CHEERFUL.

MONETARY FEARS VANISHING.
GILT-EDGED LIST BETTER.

(FROM OUR FINANCIAL CORRESPONDENT.)

LONDON, SATURDAY.

Brilliant weather and the usual week-end influences rendered both the attendance and the volume of business very attenuated on the Stock Exchange during to-day's half-session. Markets were fairly cheerful, but there was no sustained buying to keep quotations tending on the up-grade. "House" fears regarding the monetary outlook appear to have abated somewhat, so far, at any rate, as immediate prospects are concerned, and there is a healthy disposition to discount favourable factors. The gilt-edged market was inclined to mend, though the close was not at the best. Consols exceptionally hung fire throughout, and lost ¼ at 58½. The 3½ p.c. War Loan held ¼ of a forenoon advance, finishing at 87¾. There was a large business in shipping securities for a Saturday, and, despite some irregularity, specialities on the whole kept good. Indian Government issues were firm, but only occasionally higher to quote. These were scattered mixed changes of ¼ to ½ in the Colonial group, with business nowhere exceeding the Saturday average. Queensland 4½ p.c.'s were lifted ½ to 96¾.

INDUSTRIAL MARKET.
SHIPPING SHARES STILL A FEATURE.

In the Miscellaneous and Industrial market Shipping Shares continued to engage the chief share of attention, about 180 transactions being recorded in this group. Prince Line was quieter, but held at 6¾. Furness Withys fluctuated considerably, and after being over 60/- finished weaker on balance at 59/-. Royal Mails only held ¼ of a good forenoon gain at 13¼. Union S.S. of New Zealand Shares were fairly brisk around 57/6. London American Maritime Trading were strong around 40/-. Hodson's Bays were steady at 6½. In the Land group, Nigers were lifted to 3/6, but Borneos fell 6d. to 13/6. Maroons were better at 65/6, but the Canadian Shares flattened to 9/-. Brazilian Tractions, at 62½, were ¼ weaker. Courtaulds were firm at 6½. Other Textiles, including Coats Ord., were quiet. There was not much doing among Supply issues. Harrods eased to 71/9. Maypole Dairy Def. fell 1/- to 23/3. Lyons were not dealt in.

RUBBER SHARES STEADY.

Business continues restricted in Rubber Shares, but the market, though quiet, is firm. Movements have been extremely few and narrow, but most of the changes are in favour of prices. With regard to the commodity, it is stated that very little rubber is available on the spot, and prices are affected by small purchases. Raw rubber is quiet. Standard crepe spot is quoted 2/3¾ per pound, and smoked ribbed sheet spot quoted 2/5.

DIVIDENDS, REPORTS, AND MEETINGS.

DUBLIN (SOUTH CITY) MARKET COMPANY.—The directors' report, to be presented to the shareholders at the half-yearly meeting, at 3 Fade street, on Friday, the 4th August, at 12.30 p.m., states—The gross revenue for the half-year was £6,925 4/3. The working charges amounted to £1,891 2/3, and the net revenue to £5,034 2/-, which, with the balance brought forward from last account, viz., £3,622 13/7, makes a total of £8,656 14/7. After payment of interest on loans, viz., £2,266 17/11, and the instalment of the sinking fund, amounting to £961 6/4, there will remain a balance of £5,428 10/4, out of which the directors recommend the payment of a dividend of 3/- per share, free of income tax, which will absorb £3,000, and leave £2,428 10/4 to be carried forward to next half-year. FURNESS WITHY AND CO.—Lord Furness presided over the annual meeting of the shareholders of Furness Withy and Co., Ltd., held at Liverpool on Saturday. In moving the adoption of the report and accounts, he said that in view of the competition that might be expected after the war, the directors had deemed it prudent to increase the trading reserve fund by £500,000, bringing it to half a million sterling. Such a substantial reserve placed the company in a position to cope with whatever competition and adverse circumstances might arise. It would be folly now to neglect the obvious precaution of placing their large organisation on the soundest possible footing.
